

The Role of Organ Procurement Organizations (OPOs) in Advancing Donation

Independent hospital providers caring for the patient determine death before donation proceeds. Transplant centers make final decisions on organ acceptance and transplantation.